4. Reflecting on Skills and Strategies: reflect on and identify their strengths as media interpreters and creators, areas for improvement, and the strategies they found most helpful in understanding and creating media texts.

Assessment and Evaluation

The primary purpose of assessment and evaluation is to improve student learning (not just assigning a grade). It is an ongoing process and students will be given a variety of different opportunities to demonstrate their learning across all four categories of the achievement chart (Knowledge, Thinking, Communication, Application). This may include daily class work, group work, journals, oral responses, portfolios, student/teacher conferencing and independent work/tests. In order for students to meet their learning goals, they will learn to use success criteria to critically evaluate their own work and will receive feedback from teachers and peers.

A final grade will assigned based the following:

Summative Assessment Tasks (70% of final grade)

Summative evaluation given to assignments, tests, quizzes, and projects during the year.

Final Summative Assessment Tasks and/or Culminating Activities (30% of final grade)

Learning Skills and Work Habits

The following learning skills will be assessed throughout the year: Responsibility, Organization, Independent Work, Collaboration, Initiative and Self-Regulation.

Performance will be evaluated by the following categories: Excellent, Good, Satisfactory, Needs Improvement.

Deadlines and Late Assignments

Students are responsible for completing all assignments by the assigned due date and making alternate arrangements for missed evaluations.

Homework

Homework may include practice of skills taught in class, preparation or extension of in-class work. Consistent homework completion is essential for student success and it is my expectation that it be completed.

Academic Honesty

Students are responsible for being academically honest in all aspects of their schoolwork.

Rules and Expectations

Regular attendance and punctuality are expected, as they contribute to success at school and are important requirements in the workplace. The classroom is ours, not mine, not yours. Respect your classmates, the instructor and the equipment in the classroom.
